Student's Report

I would like to use my experiences in the following: First of all, I felt the warmth and friendliness of Canadians and would like to share this to those around me back home. If I see a fellow friend/classmate alone, I hope to talk to them so they don't feel lonely. I would like to start with little actions like this. Second, I would like to expand my point of view. The people I met in Canada were all very kind, and this time I would like to be the person they were. Listening carefully to what others have to say will surely expand my point of view. Lastly, I would like to share this experience to everyone back home. I realized how intolerant I am to others. I hope to become a better person and be a good example for others as well. Thank you to our supporters for this experience!

- Y.G. (From Iwate Pref.)

I applied to the Canada Homestay program because I wanted to let the world know of Fukushima's current situation. My personal goal was to become better in English and make new friends.

I was very nervous on the first day of camp and was worried if I could make new friends. However, on the bus ride to camp, I made my very first friend! She spoke English and Japanese, and up to this day, we keep in touch. Unlike my first day, I became more active and talked to a lot of people as time passed. I'm very happy I was able to accomplish my personal goals.
