Reports from participants

I learned so much during the 2 weeks we spent in New Zealand and has helped me become a better person. I felt lost in the beginning, as it was my first time abroad and I was intimidated by the language barrier. However, having a host family who treated me like their own, presenting our experiences during the earthquake, and teaching how to make Japanese tea gave me strength and confidence. I also learned so much from my group mates and I am so thankful for all the new people I met. After this program, I have set a new goal for myself. That is to keep sharing and informing people about our experience, for my friends who lost their lives to the disaster. I feel that it is our mission so people will not forget such tragedy. I am so glad and thankful for the experiences I've had that I can't have in Japan.

The two weeks I spent in New Zealand was very eventful. I met so many new people like my host families and the students of the schools we attended. I learned the importance of being active and open when you meet new people. I was very nervous in the beginning, but thanks to everyone's kindness, I was able to have fun and be confident in speaking English. We've had many chances to do our presentations, and it also became a good opportunity for us to look back and reflect on the disaster. Thank you for giving me the chance to meet new people and share our experiences with them.
