Support Our Kids Committee

What is HABATAKI Project?

Objective

Thank you for participating in the 5th Support Our Kids Reunion and to your continuous cooperation and support to the Support Our Kids project.

The Support Our Kids project is a 10-year project which aims to support the independence of children affected by the Great East Japan Earthquake and nurture them into become future reconstruction leaders of the next generation. With the cooperation of embassies and Ministry of Foreign Affairs, we offer an overseas homestay program funded through charity activities and projects.

Following our charity event with Derek Jeter and Hideki Matsui last year, Gary Player and Enya participated in our March charity event, and Dan Carter in July. We successfully implemented the homestay programs with the tremendous support we received from these charity events.

Today, 52 students who participated in the program will present their experiences abroad. Alumni of the program will also share their plans for the future and the reconstruction activities they have been working on.

Additionally, we have students who wrote a theme song for Support Our Kids, and wished to perform it live to all of you attending today. Kindly lend your ears to support the kids and I hope you all have a pleasant time with them.

We will continue to support these children, keeping in mind our motto, "Hitori janaiyo" (You are not alone).

Honorary Chairman Ian Kennedy

(Former Ambassador of New Zealand to Japan)

What is HABATAKI Project?

The Reunion was organized to make a stage for kids to grow and shine. Upon asking the students to help and suggest a name for this event, New Zealand program participant Saki Ito suggested "HABATAKI". Habataki in Japanese means to flap or flutter one's wings. She said, "We were able to fly our wings because of the support of many. From now on, we will fly on our own and repay the kindness and support we received."

Part 1 Overseas Homestay Presentations

A total of 6 groups went on stage with their unique and creative presentations. It's been 3 months since their arrival back in Japan, and their growth not only as individuals but also as a group was apparent.

We had the chance to visit Auschwitz Concentration Camps, and witnessed the horrors of war. Our heart ached and thought that it should never be repeated. Japan experienced a similar disaster; when a nuclear bomb destroyed Hiroshima and Nagasaki. As future leaders of the next generation, we realized that we need to remember these events and pass it on to the next generation to make sure it does not happen again.

Our team name is "Try For". We hope to make challenges through SOK activities with all of your support.

I've received comments that I've become brighter and more open, after the homestay program. I believe I have my host family to thank for this since they taught me, "Nothing will happen if you keep waiting, you need to take action to make it happen". This was the case during my stay. I soon learned to take action, and felt that it helped me grow as a person. Thank you, to all those who gave us this opportunity. I hope to repay you through continued participation in SOK activities.

We made many great memories and experiences through this program; including sharing our experiences during the disaster and teaching Japanese culture. Those who we met in Canada warmly welcomed us and taught us love and kindness. We, as a group, all felt that it was now our turn to the same to others. We would like to express our gratitude to all who we met in Canada, and continue our challenges for a better future.

Part 1 Overseas Homestay Presentations

The participants described the joys, frustrations and learnings of experiencing a different culture. They also expressed their gratitude to their families, teachers and supporters.

We learned of the multi-cultural aspects of Australia and each member of this group had the chance to experience it. If it weren't for this program, we wouldn't have had the opportunity to see such diversity. Additionally, due to the loss and despair we experienced from the Great East Japan Earthquake, it was difficult for us to open up. This trip became an opportunity to face the loss and despair, and see it as a chance to live a better life.

I was able to see and feel all the possibilities for my future during the homestay program. Although it has been 3 months since we came back from New Zealand, I believe I have become more active and open to ideas. We were placed in a situation which differed from what we thought was "normal", which taught us to think outside the box instead of fixed ideas and stereotypes. And that has become one traits I am confident about. Also, I am very glad to have found great friends through this program. I hope to treasure all those who I met and my dear friends.

Mr. Terada taught us something that made an impact on all of us. That is, "We can't go through life just on our own, but we need to become someone who can live even on their own". Without the support of everyone around us, we won't be where we are. Like how we received support from others, we need to stand up and support those around us in return. We will not forget Mr. Terada's words and continue to face challenges that we may face in our lives.

Part 2 HABATAKI Symposium

"Fukko no Wa" (Reconstruction Outreach) Project reports

HABATAKI project members present their reports on the "Fukko no Wa" projects. They believe that it is their turn to support others, thus the implementation of projects to support Nepal and Kumamoto earthquake victims

◆HABATAKI Project 2016 Reports

The HABATAKI project was organized to create a place for us to cast our thoughts of supporting others, into action. Today, we would like to present reports from two projects we conducted; "Tohoku x Nepal" and "Tohoku x Kumamoto" Reconstruction Outreach projects.

◆Tohoku x Nepal Reconstruction Outreach Project

Upon seeing the news about the devastating Nepal Earthquakes, I thought this was my chance to support others. I immediately reached out to my fellow SOK friends and started funding through fundraising and crowdfunding. Similar to how it was used to support us, we used the funds for a homestay program for Nepalese students. In March 2016, we successfully took in 3 students to Tohoku.

We went through many hardships as we planned this project. However, after picking them up from the airport and spending time with them, I found it very rewarding in the end. After going through it from planning, management to operation, I learned the effort that everyone put through in the homestay programs we experienced. From that, I feel even more grateful to our supporters.

◆Tohoku x Kumamoto Reconstruction Outreach Project

Although I was in a disaster-hit area during the Great East Japan Earthquake, I was frustrated because I felt there was nothing I could do. However, upon learning about the Support Our Kids project, I knew it was time to take action. When I saw the news of the Kumamoto earthquakes, I thought that, maybe there were students who felt like I did. Additionally, I witnessed my fellow SOK friends successfully organize the Tohoku x Nepal projects. I decided to follow their lead and organized a project and invited 5 students from Kumamoto to Iwaki City, Fukushima.

The main members of the Nepal project lived in different places, and differed in age. In that sense, it was easier for us to organize because we all go to the same class in the same school. However, we were also close that we would disagree to certain things, and felt the difficulties of organizing a project. Yet, we were able to move forward and succeed with the support of many.

We planned many activities for the Kumamoto students; sharing our experiences during the disaster, visiting the reconstructed Iwaki City, and discussing further about reconstruction. They were very shy at first, but eventually opened up which made us very happy. After the program was over, they said "Next time, it will be our turn to invite you to Kumamoto!" I will never forget the gratitude I felt and hope to see them again in the near future.

◆ Rehearsal

Members of the Reunion Committee were in charge of planning and operations. The students rehearsed their presentations and prepared a photo exhibition.

◆ Parents' Association

We also held the 5th Parents' Association gathering to report this year's activities and to create a better network for families and guardians. It was a very significant gathering as they discussed the apparent changes they've seen in the children after their overseas experience.

◆ Part 3: "Watashi no yume" (My dreams)

A few past participants of the homestay program officially announced their dreams on the stage of the Reunion, and came true years later. We invited them on stage to discuss what their dreams are and how they achieved it.

I participated in the 2013 France program and had the opportunity to see the Le Mans 24H Endurance Race. We were also very lucky to be given access into the car pits. I was amazed to witness the tremendous effort of the hardworking engineers towards one car. From then on, I decided to become an engineer one day and represent my country in this race. I then took my chance with Mazda, one of our biggest supporters and the only Japanese car company who won in Le Mans 24H. I am very glad to announce that I will be working for them next spring, and hope to create a car that will inspire many, as it did to me.

I participated in the 2012 England program. In our Reunion, I declared on stage that I wanted to be an elementary school teacher in the future. Recently, I passed the teacher employment examination and will be one from next spring. I was able to push through and work hard after declaring it to an audience, and received many support from it. To my lower classmen, I hope you promise yourselves your dream and wish you the very best in making it come true.

◆Part ④: HABATAKI SPECIAL LIVE

Upon the suggestion of alumni Reika Sato (CA 2014) to have a live performance, we invited Yuka Onodera (NZ 2014) and Kaori Suda (NZ 2015) for a special performance. They performed "Kakehashi" and "Kimi ga irukara" an original and inspired by the concept of Support Our Kids, and a cover song "Eiko no kakehashi".
